

General Rules and Regulations

The competition is open to all Logan County residents or Jr Exhibitors. To Qualify as a Jr. exhibitor, the exhibitor must be an active enrolled member of a Logan County 4-H or a Logan County FFA program. If a Jr. Exhibitor resides in a county other than Logan County, they may choose to show in either their counties fair or the Logan County Fair. They may not do both. County Line school students who are active members of the County Line FFA program are eligible to show as Jr. exhibitors at the Logan County Fair if they choose to do so.

All youth leaders working with junior exhibitors are under affirmative responsibility and must avoid improper conduct or questionable acts. Their moral values must be so certain and positive that those younger and more pliable will be morally influenced by their fine example. Owners, exhibitors, fitters, trainers and absolute responsible people who violate the code of ethics will forfeit premiums, awards and auction proceeds and shall be prohibited from future exhibitions, in accordance with the rules adopted by the respective fairs and livestock shows.

Exhibitors who violate this code will be prohibited from competition at all livestock shows in the United States and Canada.

*No loud music will be tolerated 30 minutes prior to or during shows and award ceremonies.

- All exhibitors MUST register and have an exhibitor number. The same number MUST be used throughout the fair in ALL departments. For a youth to show as a Jr. Exhibitor, he/she must be a current and active 4-H or FFA Member. Open Entries are all other youth and adults. The two divisions will not show against each other.
- All articles or exhibits must be entered in the name of the owner. The Fair Association reserves the right to reject or accept, conditionally, any exhibit.
- Entries removed before or after the Official check-out times will result in a forfeit of awards and prize money. All superintendents, departments, or committees will be responsible for their departments.

- Where there is no competition, the judge will have the right to award 1st, 2nd, or 3rd place as the exhibit deserves. Premium payments will be made according to the classification.
- No premium ribbons shall be removed from the exhibit until the exhibits are removed. All livestock ribbons must be displayed.
- The value of each point will be determined by the total number of points issued, divided into the amount of money available. The disbursement shall be made at the discretion of the board of directors. Prize money will be mailed out following the fair.
- Every precaution will be taken for the safe preservation of exhibits, but all loss, damage, or accidents will be at the owner's risk.
- No grooming chutes or stands allowed in the livestock barn. Grooming areas will be designated. Livestock and tack will not be allowed in barns other than designated times listed. See schedule for designated times.
- Livestock exhibitors should take extra care to make sure their animals and area are presented in a clean and professional manner. All aisles and walkways should be kept clean and clear of tack, etc.
- All pens and stalls are to be cleaned prior to check out. Failure to do this will result in a $10 reduction on any premium money awarded.
- DUE TO LIMITED INSIDE GATE PARKING AND TRAFFIC FOR 2026 the check-out procedures for Livestock & Poultry Barns as well as the Home Economics Building will be given to exhibitors at check-in.

The Livestock Committee will be responsible for handling all discrepancies issues or concerns in the livestock barns. The Livestock Commissioner shall handle all interpretations of the rules and regulations regarding the exhibition of livestock. In the event of an appeal, or as deemed necessary by the Livestock Commissioner, the Livestock Committee shall be called. Any suspected rules, regulations, or code of ethics violation will be reviewed by the Livestock Committee.

*Changes may be made to the livestock committee's discretion at any time.

LIVESTOCK RULES

Ownership Deadline is June 15, 2026.

Registration Deadline is July 21, 2026

Late entries will not be accepted.

The fair board of any county, district or state fair, reserves the right to have a blood and urine laboratory analysis made for any animal at the fair. The fair board of any county, district or state fair reserves the right to have a blood and urine laboratory analysis done for any animal at the fair. Any exhibitor administering a drug to an animal which would render the carcass unfit for human consumption or any exhibitor of an animal producing an analysis indicating the presence of an unapproved drug that can result in a quantitative or qualitative change in the characteristic of the animal will be required to return all premium money and could be banned from further competition. Their name and lab analysis will be submitted to the USDA and FDA for further investigation and possible prosecution.

*Continuing from 2025; Points will only be awarded for classes and divisions. A rosette will be awarded for Grand and Reserve overall.

SHOW RING CODE OF ETHICS

Exhibitors of animals at livestock show shall always express themselves with honesty and good sportsmanship. Their demeanor in this competitive environment shall always reflect the highest standards of honor and dignity to promote the advancement of agricultural education. All rules and regulations outlined by the Logan County Fair shall be followed by all exhibitors.

Guidelines for all exhibitors and all livestock in competitive events:

All exhibitors must present, upon request of fair and livestock officials, proof of ownership, length of ownership and age of all animals entered. Misrepresentation of ownership, age or any facts relating thereto is prohibited and will result in disqualification.

All animals must be owned by June 15 to participate in the Logan County Fair.

Exhibitors must be able to provide proof of ownership. Registration papers must be provided for purebred livestock showing the owner as the exhibitor entered.

Owners, Exhibitors, Fitters, Trainers or absolute responsible persons shall provide animal health certificates from licensed veterinarians upon request by fair or livestock show officials. Paperwork must be presented at check-in. Junior exhibitors are expected to care for and groom their animals while at the fair and livestock shows, as well as to keep their area in the barn clean.

The fair board of any county, district or state fair, reserves the right to have a blood and urine laboratory analysis made for any animal at their fair.

Any exhibitor administering a drug to an animal which would render the carcass unfit for human consumption or any exhibitor of an animal producing an analysis indicating the presence of an unapproved drug that can result in a quantitative or qualitative change in the characteristic of the animal will be required to return all premium money and could be banned from further competition.

Their name and lab analysis will be submitted to the USDA and FDA for further investigation and possible prosecution.

Disclosure: Any animal receiving medication for any life-threatening disease or illness threatening disease or illness will be removed at the time they are entered in the fair. Any surgical procedure or injection of any substance that could affect the animal's natural contour, color, conformations or appearance except applications or substances to the hooves or horns that will affect appearances only, and exception for surgical procedures by a licensed veterinarian for the sole purpose of protecting the health of the animal is prohibited. The use of show or handling practices or devices, such as stroking animals to cause swelling, using electrical contrivance, "icing" of market animals or other similar practices are not acceptable and are prohibited.

Direct criticism or interference with the judge, fair or livestock show management, other exhibitors, breed representatives or show officials before, during or after the competitive event, is prohibited. In the furtherance of their official duty, all judges, fair and livestock management or other show officials shall be treated with courtesy, cooperation and respect. No perversion shall be directed, abusive or threatening, toward them. No owner, exhibitor, fitter, trainer or responsible person shall conspire with others to intentionally violate this code of ethics. Violators of this rule shall be subjected to disciplinary action.

The application of this code of ethics provides absolute responsibility for an animal's condition by the owner, exhibitor, fitter, trainer or participant whether he or she was instrumental in or had knowledge of the treatment of the animal in contravention of this code of ethics. The act of entering an animal is the giving of permission by the owner, exhibitor, fitter, trainer or responsible person, to have any disciplinary action taken by the fair or livestock show against the entries published in any publication or the International Association of Fairs and Expositions including "Fairs and Expositions" and any special notices to members.

The act of entering an animal in a fair or livestock show is the giving of verification by the owner, exhibitor, fitter, trainer or absolute responsible person that he or she has read the Code of Ethics and understands the consequences of penalties provided for actions prohibited by the Code.

It is further consent that any action that contravenes these rules and are also in violation of federal, state or provincial statutes, regulations or rules, may be released to appropriate law enforcement authorities with jurisdiction over such infractions.

1. Each livestock exhibitor will be issued (2) Exhibitor's Passes to allow entry to the fairgrounds for the purpose of caring for their exhibit(s). This pass is non-transferable and will not be replaced if lost.
2. All livestock animals, poultry, and rabbits may check out on Sunday after pens and/ or stalls are clean. All premium and awards shall be forfeited if an animal leaves the fairground before this time.
3. Cattle must be "broke" to lead and controllable. If not, they can be removed at the discretion of the livestock committee.
4. ONLY show Management and ring workers are allowed in the show ring during the show or Premium sale. Exhibitors can request exception to this rule in writing to Livestock Committee at the time of registration. The Livestock Committee has the right to approve or reject the request upon which all decisions are final.
5. Upon entering the show staging area and ring, exhibitors are to be show ready and stay show ready. This includes but is not limited to halters.
6. No drenching in the barn is allowed.
7. All tags must be in place before entering fairgrounds
8. All pen assignments are final.
9. No congregating areas in the barn due to limited spacing.
10. All scratched animals will forfeit their stall due to limited space and increasing numbers.
11. Grooming must be done in grooming tent.
12. Fitting animals by professionals, advisors, parents or coaches is permitted; the registered exhibitor that shows the livestock must be present and actively participating in the fitting. If exhibitor is not present and actively participating, disciplinary action will be taken. The extent of discipline will be determined by the Livestock Commissioner and Committee. Disciplinary action may include forfeiture of points up to and including disqualification from show.

4. Exhibitors must wear protective footwear, defined as fully closed-toe shoes, unless otherwise approved by the Livestock Commissioner or Superintendent. Muck-style boots may only be worn at the wash racks. Open-toed or open-heeled shoes are not allowed in the livestock barn, fitting areas, or show ring during the duration of the fair. This policy applies to exhibitors, parents, siblings, and advisors who are actively handling livestock.

JUNIOR PREMIUM AUCTION Saturday, August 22, 6:00pm Exhibit Hall

The object of the sale is to reward the youth for the hard work and dedication involved in properly preparing an animal for exhibition. The auction is in honor of the youth, not the animal; however, livestock shows are a method of educating the public about providing quality livestock for our food supply. Youth are encouraged to prepare the highest quality animal they have access to for the exhibition. Animals that have been sold in the South Logan County Fair Premium are ineligible to sell in the North County Fair in the same year and vice versa.

- 1 The sale of Junior Livestock will be under the supervision of the Junior Livestock Committee.
- 2 The Junior Livestock Committee will handle all arrangements for the auction, including the auctioneer, photographer, record keeping and handling for the auction.
- 3 Order of Auction will be determined by the Committee and announced prior to sale time.
- 4 Junior exhibitors may sell only one animal in the auction. If the exhibitor qualifies with more than one animal for the auction, the highest placing animal will be sold.
- 5 The animal will be sold on a "Premium Only" basis, to the highest bidder. Youth will retain ownership of the animal. Individuals that do not win the bid on the animal are encouraged to provide add-on money for the youth.
- 6 The youth, animal and the buyer will be photographed immediately following the sale of the animal. Youths are expected to properly thank the buyer during the auction with a gift basket of their choosing. The premium auction checks and add on donation checks will not be given out until addressed and stamped thank you notes to the contributors are brought to the Logan County Extension Office to be mailed.

- 7 Youths are expected to present the animals and themselves appropriately for the auction. This means grooming the animal in the proper manner and dressing in appropriate exhibitor dress for the type of animal shown. Project supervisors are available to advise on these issues. See general rules for dress code. Also, there is to be no dressing up of animals. Glittering will not be allowed.
- 8 Youths are responsible for presenting their animals in the sale ring. Youths must be ready to enter the sale ring when it is their turn. If a youth is not prepared and awaiting his/her turn to sell, he/she will forfeit the opportunity to sell their animal.
- 9 All auction buyers and supports (through add-on money) must be prepared to pay for their premium purchases and donation immediately following the auction. Special arrangements must be made with the Auction Committee prior to the auction to do otherwise.

Each exhibitor will send individually signed thank you notes to their contributors. No group signatures will be allowed. Failure to turn in thank you cards within 90 days of the auction will result in forfeiture of premium money.
